

Compound Subjects and Compound Predicates

Lyrics by GrammarFlip

*It's a compound crew, they work as a team;
Subjects and predicates, they're living the dream.
Two or more together, they make it clear;
In the grammar world, compounds work as peers.*

Jill and Sam are reading a book;
Two subjects together—that's all it took!
They read and relax by the pool;
Two actions combined—just playing it cool!

*It's a compound crew, they work as a team;
Subjects and predicates, they're living the dream.
Two or more together, they make it clear;
In the grammar world, compounds work as peers.*

The dog and the cat nap in the sun;
Two subjects together make it more fun!
They sleep and dream until the day is done;
Two predicates combined—they work as one!

*It's a compound crew, they work as a team;
Subjects and predicates, they're living the dream.
Two or more together, they make it clear;
In the grammar world, compounds work as peers.*

The kids and the dog run through the park;
A compound subject gives the sentence its spark.
They jump and tumble as they laugh and play;
A compound predicate lights the way!

*It's a compound crew, they work as a team;
Subjects and predicates, they're living the dream.
Two or more together, they make it clear;
In the grammar world, compounds work as peers.*
